O PARAPHRASE SHAKESPEARE, All Long Island's a stage. The Island, it turns out, is a prime location for shooting commercials, and it's also been the setting for a plethora of films, videos and fashion-photography shoots. The Nassau County Film Office logged 540 productions last year, according to director Debbie Markowitz, who has been in the location-scouting business for over 20 years. There's been a notable uptick in productions in the past several years, she says.
